Two adults. The same current day plan.

Fill both copies privately. Keep one with each responsible adult, then update or replace both when the day changes. These notes are reference information, not tickets, reservations or proof of access.

Copy A - keep with the first adult

Date / version: _____

First destination / entrance: _____

Route / pickup to confirm: _____

Fixed commitment: time + place: _____

Flexible idea: _____

Hotel / return destination: _____

Return route / current service check: _____

Adult holding this copy / how to reconnect: _____

Copy B - keep separately with the second adult

Date / version: _____

First destination / entrance: _____

Route / pickup to confirm: _____

Fixed commitment: time + place: _____

Flexible idea: _____

Hotel / return destination: _____

Return route / current service check: _____

Adult holding this copy / how to reconnect: _____

Before splitting up: agree who goes with whom and how to reconnect. Children remain with their responsible adult. If someone is missing, seek staff assistance; a prewritten meeting note is not an emergency response plan.

Rehearse the next step with one phone unavailable

Before travelling, put the main planning phone away for three minutes. Ask another adult to find the ordinary planning information below using a separate copy. This tests access to information; it does not replace Disney's supported ticket, account or check-in methods.

Current date / version / adult keeping this copy

Hotel: full name, address and verified contact number

Next fixed commitment: time, exact place and provider

First destination / actual entrance / where to confirm pickup

Hotel return destination / route to check / who checks current service

Adult contact method / agreed reunion plan (keep filled notes private)

Mark what the rehearsal revealed

[ ] The second copy is available without the main phone or its login.

[ ] The other adult can identify the hotel and next fixed commitment.

[ ] Confirmed commitments are distinguishable from flexible ideas.

[ ] Both adults know which route or service detail needs a current check.

[ ] Old versions are crossed out or replaced when the plan changes.

One missing detail to repair / responsible adult / when to recheck

Use Disney's current transportation information, My Disney Experience directions or a Cast Member for current route/stop guidance. A saved note is not a live departure or disruption feed. For account or admission issues, use Disney's official help.
